Lesson Plan: Create Your Own Animation!

Grade level: 5-12

Duration: 5-7 class periods or longer

Media Type: Media Arts

Subject Integration or Collaboration: Many cross curricular opportunities!

Objective: To create a 90-second animated short film

Assessment:

Rubric:
- 4- Standards are exceeded
- 3- Standards are met
- 2- Standards may be met at a very low quality or with some exceptions
- 1- Standards are not met
- 0-

Vocabulary:

Visual Arts Elements/Principles:

| color | shape | line | texture | balance | unity | proportion | form | value | space | contrast | emphasis | movement | pattern | rhythm |

Materials and Procedure:

Device in which to create a stop motion animation (phone, tablet, laptop)

Common objects in which to animate

Day 1:

Start a conversation with students about creating short movies or animations.

Discussion Questions: Has anyone here created their own short films or animations? What can you tell me about making a short film or animation? Share Making It Up North videos about making movies:

Meet the Animators at WOMO Studios: https://youtu.be/c2vWAEJwAhl (5:51)
Ironbound Studios: Making Movies in Chisholm (4:46)

Filming vocabulary: What is a set? What is a soundstage? What does “production” mean in this context? What is a vendor? What is the role of a vendor? What does the word ‘manufacturing’ mean? What role does a community have when people create movies? What does it mean to ‘repurpose’ something?

Show samples of famous stop motion animations: Fantastic Mr. Fox (2:31), The Nightmare Before Christmas (1:25), Wallace and Gromit (2:08), to name a few.

Students will have many title ideas to offer, as well. Films and animations can be different from one another, but can also have similar elements. The American rock band Okay Go, is famous for their stop motion animation videos. Here is one of their more famous videos, Three Primary Colors (1:30), entertaining for all ages. After sharing all of this new information, and telling students that they will be creating their own 90 second animations in groups of 2-4, have students begin to brainstorm possible ideas.

Further Understanding:

Anchor Standard 4: Select, analyze, and interpret artistic work for presentation.

Enduring Understanding: Artists and other presenters consider various techniques, methods, venues, and criteria when analyzing, selecting, and curating artistic works, for preservation and presentation.

Day 2-3:
Students begin to sketch out their ideas after brainstorming with peers in groups of 2-4 students. Students can take their ideas from famous novels, books, stories, poems, etc. they have read either in or out of school.

Day 4-10:
Students start to create and record their animated stories. This may take a few days, or several. It really depends on how much time there is to spend on this lesson, and the criteria chosen for final group films. If students create, say, a 90 second film, this will take many class periods to complete. Students thoroughly enjoy creating animated short films, the time spent is well worth it!

Extensions:
Have a student lead film festival when all films are complete. Invite another classroom of students to come in and view the films. Students love to showcase their work, as well as, receive positive feedback about their hard work and accomplishments.
